LOCAL AND PERSONAL

SHOWER TEA.

Miss Dwyce Cameron, whose marriage to Mr. Joe Cockrell of Austin will be an event of early December, was complimented with a lovely pre-nuptial courtesy in the form of a shower tea, from four to seven o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 19, in the hospitable home of Mrs. D. H. Fly. Hostesses were Mesdames T. C. Barnes, Isaac Wilson, Will Muenink, Ed. Cameron, F. H. Schweers, Charles Gillispie and D. H. Fly, and Miss Maggie Cameron.

White and yellow chrysanthemums and lavender and purple winter daisies were the favored blossoms in decorating the reception suite. In the hall, floor baskets held feathery white blooms as a background for the receiving line composed of Mrs. Fly, the honoree, Miss Cameron, and her mother, Mrs. Theodore Cameron. Miss Thelma Wilson, presiding over the bride's book, also occupied this room.

The handsome gifts were displayed in the living room, which had for adornment the white "mums" in vases and floor baskets. Miss Maggie Cameron greeted the guests in this setting. The library was softly lighted with white tapers in crystal holders and had a lovely floral arrangement of lavender and purple daisies.

In the dining room, where the gleam of lighted yellow tapers mingled with the reflected sheen of silver candelabra and a low silver bowl holding yellow chrysanthemums, the tea dainties were served. The table was laid with an exquisite lace cloth over yellow and was centered with a simple arrangement of yellow blossoms. The flowers and candle arrangement was repeated on the buffet. The other members of the house party, assisted by Misses Susie Muenink and Bonnie Jack Cameron, alternated in serving. Refreshments consisted of chicken sandwiches, cakes, coffee and mints.

A musicale was presented during the receiving hours by Mrs. Arnold Newsome of Pearsall, Mrs. R. C. Rath, Misses Thelma Wilson, Betty Jean Merriman, Frances Ruth Fly, and Bernice Chaney.

The honoree wore a becoming afternoon model fashioned with a floor-length black crepe skirt and bodice of Roman striped taffeta, with which she wore red slippers and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. Mrs. Fly looked distinguished in a simple gown of blue crepe with white chrysanthemum corsage. Mrs. Cameron, mother of the honoree, wore a pretty black velvet afternoon dress with similar flower corsage.

OWLS NOSE OUT WILDCATS

DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT TO BE STAGED AT BARRY FIELD SATURDAY

DEL RIO LEADS 7-0 AT END OF HALF.

FROM THE OWL.

A great second half comeback, which wiped out a 7-0 lead of Del Rio enabled the Hondo Owls to defeat the Wildcats 14-13 in a thrilling District 40-B game here on Barry Field Monday afternoon. Through the win the Owls received the right to play Carrizo Springs Saturday for the District Championship. The game will be played at 3:00 P. M. on Barry Field in Hondo.

The winning club Saturday will then meet the Alamo Heights Mules of San Antonio in a bi-district game the first week in December.

Although the Owls lost to Alamo Heights earlier in the season by a score of 23 to 0, they were minus the services of Captain J. H. Rothe, one of the finest backs in Class B football. It was largely through his great playing that the downfall of the Del Rio Wildcats was brought about; his two perfect place-kicks after the touchdowns being the difference between the winning and losing teams.

Del Rio began the game by kicking off to the Owls. After gaining little in several tries the Owls were forced to punt. Danie's punt was a bad one, however, due to a wet ball and the strong north wind into which he had to punt. Del Rio then took the ball and began a drive toward the Owls' goal line. However, they were stopped within the Owls' twenty-yard line where the Owls took possession of the ball, Danie punting out of bounds on the Owls forty-seven yard line. The Wildcats took possession of the ball here and Henry Brooks, Clifford Lonas and L. Potter worked the ball down the field with Potter going over from the one-foot line. Clyde Bradley, Del Rio's big cog in the backfield, kicked the extra point. The entire second quarter was scoreless and the 7-0 Del Rio lead still stood at the half.

In the third quarter things began to pick up. Tommie Danie, Hondo's alert guard, recovered a fumble on the Del Rio 25-yard line. Hondo went to the six-yard line where the Del Rio forward wall held and the ball went over to the Wildcats on downs. However, on Del Rio's first play, Quarterback Clifford Lonas fumbled and Danie pounced on the ball behind the goal for a touchdown. Rothe kicked the extra point to tie up the contest.

On the final play of the third quarter Rothe took a punt on his own 40 and raced it back to the Del Rio 24. After making a first down in three plays the Owls had the ball on the Del Rio 12-yard stripe. On the next play Hondo picked up 6 yards, and on the second play Rothe dashed around left end for the remaining six yards to score standing up. Then he booted the slippery ball against a strong north wind squarely between the uprights for the winning marker.

With less than five minutes to go, Del Rio started a successful 54-yard touchdown drive. Thomas Moreno made a first down complete on the Hondo 10-yard line. On the next play Bradley tore through center for the remaining 10 yards.

A bad pass from center prevented Bradley from getting off his place-kick in time. The entire Hondo line rushed through to block the boot, which, if made, would have given the game to Del Rio. The score would have been tied, but Del Rio led in penetrations four to three, and in first downs nine to six.

Despite the rain which fell during nearly the entire game and the cold wind, close to 1,500 people, about half of whom were from Del Rio, attended the game. This is one of the largest crowds to ever attend any grid encounter in Hondo. A special train brought 280 Del Rio fans.

The officials for the game were Harold Winters, referee; Claud Kelam, umpire; and Gene Seng, head linesman.

Hondo Owls To Meet Carrizo Springs Wildcats in Grid Game.

The Hondo High School Owls, coached by Wm. T. DuBose, meet the Carrizo Springs Wildcats here Saturday, November 28, for the district championship. The game promises to be a thriller from start to finish as both teams feature passes and broken-field running, and are evenly matched in speed and weight.

Local school officials are expecting a greater crowd for Saturday's game than witnessed Monday's thriller. While Saturday is a bad day for business men to get off, all of the school children in the district will be able to come to the game on that day.

The Wildcats have won eight games this season and have tied one. The comparative scores against the same teams indicate that there is little to choose between Hondo and Carrizo:

Hondo 14, Del Rio 13.
Carrizo 6, Del Rio 0.
Hondo 35, Sabinal 0.
Carrizo 12, Sabinal 0.
Hondo 6, Uvalde 0.
Carrizo 6, Uvalde 0.
Hondo 6, Pearsall 7.
Carrizo 26, Pearsall 16.

QUIHI NOTES.

Thou shalt go unto my country, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son Isaac. Gen. 24:4.

Why dig up an old and obsolete custom? Who can learn from it, who would dare to imitate it? What's it all about? Abraham, old and well stricken in age, seems to set his house in order in his own way; safeguarding his interests, his future, whatever there is left of it, in a peculiar fashion, little short of a dictatorial, overweening fashion, by sending his chief, Eliezer, an old fixture from Damascus, on a kind of bridal selection tour, a possible Miles Standish expedition, nay, age forbade, but on the greatest possible blunder excursion imaginable, he, by all tokens, steering into a storm that blew nobody good, into a tidal wave that threatened to wreck the happiness of everybody. How could he burden a domestic, the best of them, with such a delicate mission? Could he qualify for it, put up the proper wisdom, tact and taste? A servant—was it not rather an indignity for the prospective girl, the whole thing reminding of a cattle trade or something? Yea, "why don't you speak for yourself, John?" Where is Isaac? Is he unconcerned? Has he the "faint heart that ne'er won fair lady"? Does his father deprive him, forcefully, of the romance of courtship, from honeyed glances, sighs, words, confession to the honeymoon? What normal damsel could let her heart speak for one unknown, unseen, and hundreds of miles away? What parents or guardians would consent to such a risky marriage gamble proposed by an underling with flimsy credentials? Preposterous, absurd, the whole affair, says common, modern day sentiment, even when nuptial adventures are taken very lightly; surely, Abraham shows a bad streak of senility here? You think so? Who are we to defend this man of God in trying to justify his thoughts and motives and action? Yet, it's not hard.

Mr. Mimke Wiemers is nursing a badly sprained ankle, and it's a hard task for a man of his vigor and active disposition. The Lord still speaks in various ways and He means well in spite of appearance.

Much improved but still far from full recovery and regained strength, we found Mrs. H. G. Boehle at our last visit. The Lord's clock often runs slower than ours but it has the right time. We were glad to see Elsie Boehle in fine condition though still forced to remain inactive. Wonder how many were grateful for good health on Thanksgiving Day and how many jeopardized their health while attacking that silent, defenseless bird on the table?

Announcements for November the 29th: German service at 10; Sunday school in full at 9:30 A. M. No evening service. The service is for your. Come.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED.

Miss Ruby Rieber, a bride of this week, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22, at St. John's Hall, with Mesdames A. E. Weynand, John Fischer, Edgar Rieber, Maurice Lutz, Adolph Maier, and Hugo Batot, and Misses Henrietta Batot and Earline Batot as hostesses.

The bride-to-be entered with little Misses Ann Lewis and Rosemary Maier, in brown and green costumes trimmed with autumn leaves while Mrs. Volney H. Boon played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" on the piano.

Miss Rieber wore a spruce green frock of satin-back crepe amig with brown accessories. The Thanksgiving and autumn motif was carried out, the stage and piano being covered with autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums, and floor baskets holding the same were placed by the honoree's chair.

Misses Mary Ann Noonan, Rose Marie Finger and Dorothy Ney gave two delightful dances, accompanied by Mrs. Boon. Misses Georgia Mae Muenink, Corine Graff, Anna Laura Renken, Lorine Koch and Mary Louise Haegelin sang "When Did You Leave Heaven?" and "Until the Real Thing Comes Along", also accompanied by Mrs. Boon. All these girls are members of the Children of Mary Sodality, of which Sodality Miss Rieber has been president for the past seven years, and is now succeeded by Miss Frances Sauter.

Miss Earline Batot presided over the bride's book, in which about seventy-five guests registered.

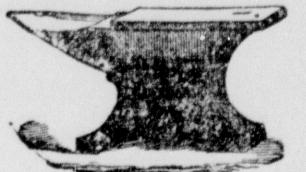

The honoree received many beautiful gifts, for which she expressed her thanks and appreciation.

The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Olen Lewis and Miss Kathryn Graff, served chicken salad on shredded lettuce, bings, ice box cookies, and hot chocolate, with various roasted nuts in cellophane for plate favors.

ures, the Owls scored 61 points to the opponents' 20, while Carrizo has scored 50 points to the opponents' 23. Games are won on the field, however, and not by comparative scores.

The two teams feature different styles of play, the Owls specializing in short punt, while the Wildcats feature the double-wing-back. Captain J. H. Rothe will match his speed with that of Ward, who is considered the fastest and best broken-field runner ever produced in the south zone.

The game will start at three o'clock, and if the weather is bad, cars will be allowed to drive into the grounds. San Antonio officials will handle the game.

BALLOTS VS. BULLETS.

By Clayton Rand.

* Political issues of less consequence than those at stake in America might be settled in Russia, Italy, Germany, or Spain with bullets.

* We Americans may be a lynching, lawless lot compared to these older civilizations but we have learned that ballots are about as deadly as bullets.

* Politically speaking we turn the nation upside down once in a while, but with little bloodshed.

* And when the scrap is all over we stack away our pop-guns and stink bombs for a breathing spell. Among all the checks and balances our forefathers provided for constitutional government, political parties, with a constant eye upon each other, serve a wholesome purpose.

* Perhaps after all BALLOTS is the reason why America is still the best country in the world.

FROM BASEMENT TO FLAGPOLE.

The elections throughout the nation are over. Candidates for office on every ticket have promised to work for tax reduction.

It is becoming pretty generally recognized today that taxes are such a burden on industry that they restrict its normal development—that means they restrict prospective jobs.

The most pressing relief needs of the depression period have passed. But in their wake will be a hang-over of persons on the public payroll that will drain the treasuries of government and industry unless a drastic program is inaugurated to cut off useless expense and live up to campaign promises to hold down and reduce taxes.

The mopping-up process will have to begin in the basement of the smallest city hall and go right through to the gold ball atop the flagpole on the capitol at Washington.

Nothing would do more to encourage industry to develop and employ more and more labor than a feeling that an honest and determined effort was being made throughout the nation to balance budgets and reduce taxation.

The answer rests with the people. Theirs is the power to demand efficiency and economy in government, or theirs is the power to break their own public treasuries and the taxpayers (workers and industries).

The first course leads to steady jobs and good wages. The second course leads to unemployment, mortgage foreclosures on homes and business, and the eventual break-down of sound government.

We can't pass the buck—the answer rests with us—the taxpayers, the workers and our public servants. —Industrial News Review.

TEN RULES FOR EVERY HUNTER.

"As November comes, our deepest sympathies go out to wives and mothers who see their armed menfolk depart, perhaps never to return from the happy hunting grounds. However cautious a hunter may be, there is no telling when somebody else not quite so cautious will put a lead of shot in him." So writes Wm. H. Harrison of Virginia in The Progressive Farmer in giving these rules every hunter should observe.

1. Never enter an automobile, boat, train, or bus with a loaded gun.
2. Never point a gun at any person even in jest. "I didn't know it was loaded" has become the fool's excuse at many an unnecessary funeral.

3. Never hunt with anyone you know to be careless.

4. Never load your gun until you are actually ready for business—in the woods or field is time enough.

5. Never consider a rustle of a bush to be a sure indication of game. Often a human being may be passing along.

6. Never shoot too hastily. By doing so many an overzealous gunner has killed his best friend or best dog instead of the rabbit.

7. Never drag your gun under a fence with the muzzle pointed toward you. Put it through the fence, muzzle first, and lay it flat on the ground before you climb through or over the fence.

8. Never rest on the muzzle of your gun or place it on the toe of your shoe.

Italy and Germany Recognize Insurgent Regime in Spain
—Anti-Communist Pact Angers Russia—Tugwell Resigns—President on Unemployment.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

MUSSOLINI and Hitler threw Europe into spasms of alarm by suddenly calling into session the ministerial councils of Italy and Germany and causing them to recognize formally the Fascist government of Gen. Francisco Franco as the legal government of war-torn Spain. It was taken for granted that Austria and Hungary would follow suit. Maj. Ramon Franco, brother of the Spanish insurgent chieftain, had been in Rome and probably informed Il Duce that the general, whose attacks on Madrid were meeting with unexpected resistance, might lose the war unless he were given active support by the nations that sympathized with his cause. Mussolini and Hitler did not immediately announce that they would quit the international agreement for intervention in Spain, but it was believed they would soon be shipping munitions to Franco's armies. They withdrew their diplomatic representatives from Madrid and arranged to send others to the rebel government.

Gen. Franco

Great Britain and Russia were stunned by the action of the two dictators and cabinet meetings were hurriedly called. The British are determined not to be drawn into the Communist-Fascist conflict but they believe that Italy and Germany, especially the former, have designs in the Mediterranean that would peril Britain's seaway to the Orient and are preparing to meet any such threat. Russia's reaction was awaited breathlessly, and the soviet government was being provoked still further by the fact that General Franco declared a blockade of the port of Barcelona, capital of the almost independent province of Catalonia. This move certainly was made to stop the landing of munitions and food from Russia destined for the Spanish loyalist forces. England, France and other nations were greatly concerned over the blockade, for the port is largely used by their shipping. The Spanish rebels have created a strongly fortified port at Palma on the island of Mallorca that can be used as a base for bombardment of Barcelona from the sea. Blockading vessels may be supplied by Portugal, which warned neutral shipping to avoid the Barcelona port, though Lisbon had not yet formally recognized Franco's government.

An almost humorous note came from Geneva where League of Nations observers asserted that the Italo-German recognition of the Spanish insurgents violated Article 10 of the covenant which demands that league members respect "territorial integrity and the existing political independence of all members of the league." They seem to have forgotten how the league abandoned Manchuria to Japan and Ethiopia to Italy not so long ago. The Italian grand council, with Mussolini presiding, voted to support the Duce's policies by giving him more airplanes, more guns, more warships and more men. It was frankly stated that the reason for this was the threatening international situation. Italian opinion was that if France joined Russia in aiding the formation of a radical Spanish government with its capital at Barcelona—in event that Madrid fell to the Fascists—there would be great danger of general war.

COMPLICATING the already complex European situation and directly threatening war is the alleged fact that Germany and Japan have united to fight the spread of communism, and that their pact is expected to be adhered to by Italy and perhaps various central European nations. This is of course directed mainly against soviet Russia, and Moscow is actively aware of the menace. It is understood that the agreement provides that Germany and Japan shall keep strong military forces in East Prussia and Manchukuo respectively; that the two nations shall exchange military information and orders, and that in certain contingencies Germany shall supply Japan with war materials.

An immediate source of friction between Germany and Russia is the arrest of 23 Germans in Moscow and Leningrad under charges of plotting to steal secret military information, to wreck industrial plants and to kill government leaders. Berlin protested the arrests but the soviet officials replied that all formalities governing such cases had been observed and that several of the prisoners had confessed their guilt. The German propaganda ministry said the story of the German-Japanese agreement, which came from Moscow, was a "periodic lie" which this time was intended to sidetrack German protests against the arrests.

ALTHOUGH he professed himself gratified at the inroads upon unemployment by industry, the President commented upon the fact that private business has not yet absorbed vast masses of the unemployed and that millions of persons remain on the Works Progress administration pay roll and other governmental agencies. Mr. Roosevelt declared it was "widely known" that many of the largest industries will not hire workers over forty years of age. To a large extent, he charged, this policy is responsible for the relatively large number of older workers on relief. And industry must expand opportunities for the hiring of unskilled workers, he said.

The mayors of the United States, in annual conference in Washington, were gratified by assurances from both Harold Ickes, head of the PWA, and Harry Hopkins, head of the WPA, that the administration will not cease its spending efforts to keep alive the emergency organizations intended to deal with the unemployment problem. "I am convinced," Ickes said, "that the PWA should be made a permanent agency of government. It will expire June 30 next. On that date, many projects will not be completed. Necessarily, a law should be passed giving time within which to complete the tasks already undertaken."

Hopkins predicted the 1929 level of production would be reached next year. "Yet the end of our troubles seems a long way off," he remarked. "There were about 1,800,000 unemployed even at the 1929 peak, but next year, with the same volume of production, carefully prepared estimates indicate that there will still be some 6½ to 7 millions unemployed."

FOR more than ten years the American government has been building monuments of the World war on French and Belgian battlefields and memorial chapels in the eight American military cemeteries in France, Belgium and England. This work is now completed and the American Battle Monuments commission, of which General Pershing is chairman, recommends that the structures be dedicated next July, twenty years after America's entry into the war. The approval of the President and congress is required.

REPRESENTATIVE RAYMOND J. CANNON of Wisconsin isn't waiting for the "silly season" to open. In a fine democratic frenzy he has prepared and says he will introduce in congress a resolution, "asking the President to forbid our ambassadors and other representatives from participating in any official capacity in the coronation ceremonies and the marriage ceremony of the king of England."

The resolution describes the coronation as "latent propaganda for monarchy," and added that "it is improper for a free republic to participate in a ceremony of obsequious homage to an hereditary ruler."

It may be stated that the matter of King Edward's romance with Mrs. Wally Simpson is now discussed guardedly in the British press and with considerable heat by the nobility and churchmen of England. His majesty continues to see Wally frequently but has given no intimation to the world that he will marry her.

ME. ERNESTINE SCHUMANN-HEINK, one of the greatest operatic and concert contraltos of the period, died in Hollywood, to the sorrow of the nation generally and especially of the men of the A. E. F. for whom she sang throughout the war. A German by birth, she loved intensely her adopted country of America. Her family was split asunder by the war, one of her sons being killed as a German soldier and another dying in action as a member of the American forces.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S report to the senate committee of his campaign expenditures shows that the cost of his re-election to himself was exactly $670.

Robert Jefferys, secretary of the committee, said he had not yet received a report from Gov. Alf M. Landon, but understood that most of his expenses were borne by the Republican national committee.

William Lemke, Union party presidential nominee, reported he spent $2,866 and received contributions totaling $5,753. The Prohibition party's candidate for President, Dr. Leigh Colvin, listed expenditures of $1,106 and contributions of $1,131.

FIRST of the big groups that aided in the re-election of President Roosevelt to call on him for their reward, the steel workers have asked that the Chief Executive recommend to the next congress the passage of legislation outlawing company unions and forbidding coercion of workers by employers. George A. Patterson and Elmer J. Maloi, employee representatives of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company, carried this request to the White House.

The Carnegie-Illinois company has offered employees a 10 per cent wage increase on condition that workers sign an agreement to permit adjustment of wages to the cost of living. At his press conference President Roosevelt said living costs should not be permitted to operate to curb wage increases. Furthermore, Secretary of Labor Perkins ruled informally that the employee representatives had no authority to sign such an agreement for their fellow employees.

IN HIS first press conference since the Presidential election Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, asserted his belief that relief rolls this winter would be at the lowest point since the start of the depression.

He estimated that 3,750,000 families and single persons would be receiving federal and local aid January 1, 1937, compared to a peak of 5,316,000 in January, 1935.

"I think," Hopkins said confidently, "that we will go into January of this year caring for 1,000,000 less cases than a year ago and a reduction of about 1,500,000 from 1935."

The administrator's attention was called to the fact that latest figures showed that 3,498,012 persons were employed the first two weeks of October, an increase of 29,020 over the preceding half month. He explained this by pointing out that the drought in the Midwest added 32,831 destitute farmers to his WPA project list.

EMPLOYER corporations were hit by a ruling of the National Labor Relations board ordering the dissolution of the "industrial council plan" of the International Harvester company at the plant in Fort Wayne, Ind.

While the ruling dealt only with the Indiana plant, the board pointed out that the same plan also exists in the other 14 Harvester plants in the United States and Canada. It sets a precedent also for future decisions in regard to similar plans in other manufacturing plants throughout the country.

A DOLF HITLER has torn up another clause of the Versailles treaty—the one that internationalized the German rivers and canals. He has announced that the reich has resumed sovereignty over all such waters. The treaty clause was designed partly to give Czechoslovakia free access to the sea, and that nation now has agreed with Belgium to protest formally against Germany's action. British Foreign Minister Eden rather mildly criticized Hitler's course.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
By WILLIAM BRUCKART
NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington.—There is an "era of good feeling" going the rounds that is quite different than anything we have had since early in 1929. It is being promoted with a great deal of enthusiasm and present results as well as indications justify the promotion work that is going on in the New Deal press agent circles.

Era of Good Feeling

This era of good feeling is quite an interesting thing from another angle, namely, politics. It is being used by the politicians again to establish President Roosevelt in the same situation as he found himself at the beginning of his first term in the White House. I am afraid he is being built up again as a superman and, in politics, a superman or his position is hard to maintain in the public mind.

Business also is indulging in this era of good feeling. Business always puts its best foot forward, just as lovers do. It wants to develop a spirit of good will on the part of the public and it wants to show its financial backers how things are coming along all hunky-dory. There is nothing wrong in the attitude. It is perfectly logical and human—and it is very interesting to see this wave of healthy feeling grow.

The important, thing about this era of good feeling is that to the expert students it shows a gradual, if not conclusive, decline in depression conditions. It proves that things are on the up grade—not that they are at the top yet, but that a momentum is being established which may carry the economic recovery to the top if the federal government settles down and treats business with fairness.

As I said above, New Deal press agents are promoting this business recovery for all that it is worth. Naturally, they are attributing it to the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt as the basic factor in this upward surge of business. They are capitalizing it to the fullest because by so capitalizing it, the political party in power gets its due share of credit. There is no doubt that they will continue on this course because everyone likes to read or hear about improved business conditions, restoration of dividend payments, increasing volume of traffic, and all things that show the nation is slowly but surely getting back on its economic feet.

While the New Dealers are shouting from the housetops how President Roosevelt has accomplished all of these things, there comes a discordant note from business itself. Business leaders, just like politicians, want credit for whatever is accomplished, whether they are responsible or someone else. They do not care any more than politicians whether the credit properly is theirs. It is simply an exposition of the vain, glorious trait that seems to exist in nearly everyone.

Business is seeking to show that it is pulling itself together, opening new factories, raising wages, in spite of New Deal policies with the handicaps that some of those policies include. So, business is seeking to counterbalance the politicians and the politicians, speaking through New Deal press statements, are trying to fortify their own position as saviors of the country. Neither one is correct. Without doing too much debunking, I believe it ought to be said that President Roosevelt and his associates have executed some government policies that have been helpful to the business structure. With equal frankness, it ought to be said that business leaders have taken the bull by the horns and have proceeded to help materially in putting commerce and industry back on the right track again. Neither one ought to take too much credit. Some credit is due each but neither one nor both together is entitled to claim all of the credit for the recovery of business that is now underway.

The answer to the upward swing of business lies chiefly in the fact that the depression has worn itself out. It would have worn itself out just the same whether the administration was New Deal or Republican. It would have accomplished just as much in the way of expanded buying power and increased production whether Mr. Roosevelt was re-elected or whether he had been defeated and Governor Landon of Kansas had been elected at the end of the recent national campaign.

I am reminded by this discussion of a remark that the late Eugene Black made while he was governor of the Federal Reserve board. On that occasion I asked him whether there were signs of the end of the depression. His reply was, "not yet." He added, however, that the depression would destroy itself as every other depression in history had done and that when this point of exhaustion had been reached, commerce and industry would take an upward swing. Then, he added with reference to some of the economic students of the administration in power: "It will wear itself out and good times will come back again—and every doggone professor and economic theorist in the world will try to claim credit for it."

So, I think it can be said without equivocation that if anybody or anything is entitled to credit for the indicated recovery movement, it had better be fair and admit it was a combination of circumstances, not the least of which was the natural law of supply and demand. It seems utterly silly to me for any individuals or groups of individuals to attempt to corral all of the praise.

Those who have access to the market pages of the great metropolitan daily newspapers must have been impressed by the rapid fire announcements coming from big industrial corporations of wage increases, bonuses for employees and melon cutting in the form of dividends for the shareholders. They must have been impressed, likewise, with the sharp rise in security prices that obviously has reflected the expanded business and increased earnings.

A prosperous nation may not always be a happy one but there is a certain psychology about a prosperous nation that makes it carefree. It is a psychology that makes the average man and woman forget to a large extent about the recent pinch of economic displacements and, as well, those same people are inclined to disregard and give no consideration to the morrow.

Let us look into those circumstances. When corporations or other forms of business have reasonable years in their particular lines, early in the winter they begin to see what the year's total will be. They can figure rather accurately what the returns will be in the last two months, say, after they have made their totals for the first ten months of the year. So, whenever they reach that stage in a reasonably successful year they can make their plans for distribution of the profits.

Now, we have a tremendously high tax rate on corporation surpluses and we have rather high tax rates on incomes of individuals. Corporations and other businesses, therefore, start figuring how to do the best they can with the earnings of the year. Some of them determine that their employees should share substantially in the profits of their labors; others want to distribute as much of these earnings as they may to their stockholders because such a showing creates a demand in the market for their shares and such a demand is influential in establishment of the corporation's credit for borrowing money if it needs to borrow from the banks. In either event, corporation managements obviously give considerations to the tax the corporation would have to pay and I think it is not a matter of condemnation for them to turn over as much of their profit as they can to those interested in the business instead of to a government which wastes so much.

To be perfectly fair, it must be said that the money now being distributed either in dividends or in bonuses to workers or in wage increases was earned before the recent election. Its distribution, however, is motivated largely on prospects for the future. In other words, those responsible for these distributions of earnings feel that they can let that money out of their hands. They may not be distributing all of the sums available but the "era of good feeling" is accepted by all of them as indicating the chances for continued earnings are bright.

I have merely touched on the effect of distribution of earnings among the holders of capital. It is just as important to consider the effect of distribution of these earnings on the laboring classes. Labor has been convinced under the American system for many years that it is entitled to some share of the profits from its products. Employers are taking that same view to a greater extent than anywhere else in the world. When labor gets bonuses or gets increases in its pay, there is a reaction among those workers who have sound judgment that prompts them to do the best they can on their jobs. That is to say, they become contented workers and they are less susceptible to the propaganda of radicals who seek to promote strikes and labor disturbances to further the ends of communism. That is a part of the era of good feeling as much as the added earnings of corporations or the enthusiasm of politicians over victory.

4-H AND WOMEN'S H. D. CLUBS IN MEDINA COUNTY PROGRESSING RAPIDLY.

Miss Irene Hawkins, recently appointed Home Demonstration Agent for Medina County, has been very busy since assuming her position a little over a month ago in organizing 4-H Clubs for girls and Home Demonstration Clubs for women of the County. Up to date the club work has been progressing satisfactorily in all parts of the County and new members are being added in all clubs.

Included in the plans and projects of the girls' and women's group is the selection of Demonstrators, and plans for work to date include garden, pantry, and wardrobe demonstrations. Those who had gardens are improving them, and those who had none are planting. All are building fences around their garden plots to keep out the rabbits.

Wardrobe and pantry work is being taken up with great interest. A Specialist from the Extension Service is expected to visit the clubs in this County to help them with their plans sometime in December.

Miss Hawkins announces the following Demonstrators:

GETS A BIG ONE.

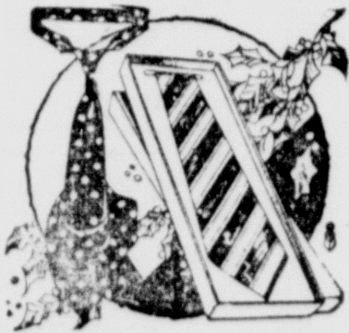

What was the heaviest buck up to that date, and probably for the season, was a 10-pronger killed Sunday, November 22nd, by John William Martin on the ranch of his father, Fritz A. Martin. This was the young man's first deer and the prize weighed 136 pounds when dressed. He and his cousin, Albert Sprenger, of about the same age, 16 years, were out on the range together when the kill was made. One of the boys stood guard over the trophy while the other went for help to bring it in, it being too heavy for the two of them to carry.

John William is the second oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz A. Martin.

VERSATILE SOYBEAN MAKES TASTY FOOD WHEN COOKED.

It all depends upon taste—so soybeans are being cooked and tasted in the United States Department of Agriculture to determine which varieties may be used as edible green vegetable beans.

The green beans resemble young,
tender lima beans, but they have a richer, more nutty flavor. The pods, too tough to be eaten as food, may be easily shelled after a 3-minute boiling.

About 60 edible varieties were brought from Japan and planted at the Department's experimental farm at Arlington, Va., and at several State experiment stations. Each week, as they ripen, a number of varieties are cooked and tasted.

From 75 to 170 days are required for the green beans to mature. They differ markedly in flavor, ease of cooking, and respond differently to soil and climatic conditions. A number of very promising early, medium, and late vegetable types for regions adapted to the soybean has been found. The Hahto, a medium variety, is the only green vegetable variety handled by growers. The Rokusun, a late type, and two or three early Japanese varieties should be in season.

As green vegetable beans, soybeans should be picked when they reach full size and are still green and succulent. They may be cooked about the same way as fresh lima beans or green peas. Many persons prefer to boil them in salted water from 20 to 30 minutes.

Green soybeans are not available before the midsummer and for a steady supply a succession of plantings of the same variety or varieties of different ripening periods is recommended. Common varieties also may be used as green vegetable beans, but they are smaller, do not cook as easily, and usually lack the distinctive flavor of green vegetable soybeans.

A FINE SEEDBED MAY BE THE BEGINNING OF RUIN.

A fine seedbed, once considered the beginning of good farming, may be the beginning of ruin on land subject to water erosion and on farms in the dust-storm States. Reports to the Soil Conservation Service show more and more that the farmer who keeps his fields rough, who farms on the contour, and plants strip crops, keeps his land at home.

A rough field or a field with cover crops is a field with innumerable tiny dams and terraces—obstructions which hold the soil against both washing and blowing.

On the rolling lands of this country nature usually supplies a cover of grass, shrubs, and trees which retard erosion by both wind and rain.
The hill farmer copies this cover with contour furrows and strip crops.

Farmers in the dust-storm States, observing how a clod of earth, a weed, a fence, or any obstruction catches blowing soil, are leaving their fields rough, or leaving the stubble high when grain or forage crops are harvested.

Results show the value of these safeguards against erosion. In one test alone by the Soil Conservation Service, land planted to potatoes with rows up and down hill lost 650 times as much soil as land planted on the contour with alternate strips of potatoes, and oats and clover. In the dust States this spring more soil can be seen moving off smooth, bare fields than off adjoining fields roughened by listing or with a protecting cover of stubble or grass.

A fine, smooth seedbed which once gave a man a good reputation may not gain him a bad reputation among his neighbors who roughen their fields against wind and rain.

EVENING IN A SOUTHERN GARDEN.

A blossoming wisteria draped the pergola roof.
Its racemes swinging lightly in the breeze,
The wierd-like moss of silvery-grey seen through the moonlight
Makes phantoms of the century old

Magnificent azaleas like fairy butterflies,
Grow lush beneath the aromatic
pines,
Gardenias spill their sweet perfume
upon the evening air,
Intoxicating as old ripened wines.

We sit and listen dreamily to showers of melody
Pour from the throats of tiny mocking-birds,
Then all is still; the garden sleeps,
like benediction falls
The hush of night. Too beautiful for words.

New corporations chartered in Texas during July declined in number moderately below those of the preceding month and the corresponding month last year, and aggregate capitalization was sharply under both comparable periods. Data compiled from the records of the Secretary of the State show that the number of new corporations chartered declined 16.3 per cent and 12.9 per cent from a year ago and the preceding month respectively; and capitalization declined 49.3 per cent in 27.3 per cent respectively. Of

BRICKLAYER DEAD.

Archie Grover Birkner, 42, bricklayer, died in his home, 324 East 15th Street, early Saturday afternoon. He had lived in San Antonio for the past 20 years, having come to San Antonio from Lockhart, Mo., a member of Hardeman county, A. F. & A. M., of Luling and member of the Bricklayers Union No. 2. Surviving are the widow, L. C. Birkner; two sons, Archie Birkner, Jr., and Gordon H. Birkner, both of San Antonio; two daughters, Bessie Porter and Mrs. Kempf, of San Antonio; brother, Birkner, Jr., of Sinton, and his wife, Mrs. Gus Birkner, of Sinton. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon with Rev. B. O. Kempf officiating.

DUNLAY H. D. CLUB MEETS.

Wednesday, Nov. 18th, the Dunlay Home Demonstration Club had its regular meeting with Miss Irene Hawkins, our Home Demonstration agent, present. Miss Hawkins gave very interesting lectures for our club. Gardening was discussed and was laid out for fall and spring gardens. All our members took very much interest and plan to raise their vegetables for canning, to fill their cupboards. One new member was added to our list, which brings our membership to fourteen. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Chas. Krenmuel and Mrs. Oscar Bende. Our next meeting will be December 2, 1934. All members try to bring a new member for our next meeting.

UPPER QUIHI P. T. A. MEETS.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Upper Quibi community held its regular meeting on Thursday, Nov. 19. Preceding the meeting a very interesting program was given by the school children. In the program were some very interesting talks given by some of the children who attended the Texas Centennial at Dallas. During the course of the business meeting it was decided that the Association join the Medina County Council.

On an Old Plank Road in the Southwest Desert

An old prospector with his train of pack animals and a group of western horsemen are shown here on the Yuma Road, the Colorado desert section of the "Old Spanish Trail." Authentic as to shrubbery and construction, the Yuma Road is one of nine famous "Roads of the Southwest" which have been reproduced by the Ford Motor Company at its exhibit at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas.

EXTENSION ENTOMOLOGIST SUGGESTS FALL CLEAN-UP OF GROWING COTTON TO COMBAT WEEVILS.

"To reduce the number of boll weevils in the cotton fields next year every farmer should plow up all cotton growth as soon as cotton picking is complete," says R. R. Reppert, Extension entomologist.

"Cotton boll weevils feed only in green cotton and develop only in green cotton squares or bolls. Killing cotton growth early thus removes the food of the weevil. If the growth is entirely killed as early as two weeks before frosts, practically all weevils will starve before going into winter quarters.

Absolute lack of food for only a short period during the active season, that is previous to killing frosts, will cause death from starvation. If allowed to reach the dormant state, weevils can live several months without food, and it is these overwintering weevils that breed and supply the next season's hordes," he added.

"A total destruction of the plant substance is not necessary nor desirable," Ruppert warned. "All our soils need this organic material returned for continued profitable production. It is enough in the matter of weevil control that the plant merely be killed.

"Often a plow set shallow to clip the tap roots just below the surface of the soil is a successful practice. Merely chopping or clipping the stalks will not answer, because the stumps will throw out new growth ideal for weevil food," he concluded.

GREEN STRIP MEANS "STOP" TO LOSS OF GOOD SOIL.

Some crops are enemies of soil erosion and other crops are allies. Some crops protect and bind the soil and others induce soil losses.

According to the Soil Conservation Service, nearly all forage crops—such as alfalfa, the clovers, sudan grass, and lespedeza—check soil washing and blowing much more effectively than such cash crops as cotton, tobacco, corn, and potatoes.

The Soil Conservation Service is recommending strip cropping to thousands of farmers cooperating in its 141 demonstration areas throughout the country. Strip cropping means planting strips of close-growing, soil-protecting crops on the contour between strips of clean-cultivated, soil-depleting crops. Each close-growing strip checks the speed of water running down the slope. The strips of protecting crops catch the soil that washes away from clean-cultivated strips. Combined with terracing and terrace outlet drainageways, strip cropping provides the best protection against cropland erosion in many regions.

Strip cropping also is effective in retarding wind erosion. Close-growing crops break the wind, and in addition help build up fertility and conserve moisture in the soil.

Strip cropping is comparatively new in erosion-control procedure, but is being used on nearly all demonstration projects in 41 States.

THE SHUMAC'S SOLILQUY.

And now I know October's here
The Indian summer time of year.
Though dumb and blind, yet I can see
That shrub and branch on every tree.

(Or, should I say that I can feel?)
The tingle of the autumn zeal.
My leaves are yellowed all my length
With colorings of Autumn strength.
And some have turned a russet brown
Resembling some painted crown.

A gala day teems through the air
And everyone seems now to share
That each prepare for winter rest—
So that in spring we show our best
Through beauty sleep on nature's breast.

A wedding of interest to a large number of relatives and friends was that held at 8:30 A. M. on Thanksgiving Day, in St. John the Evangelist Church, when Miss Ruby Rieber became the bride of Mr. Oscar Batot, in a nuptial High Mass. Rev. T. A. Flynn officiating. The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rieber of Hondo and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Batot of Hondo. We hope to have a full account of the wedding for our next issue of the paper.

THRILLS AND FUN IN NEW FILM ROMANCES AT LOCAL THEATRE.

"Here Comes Carter!", First National's new, screen drama that probes behind the scenes of both radio broadcasting stations and moving picture studios, comes to the Colonial Monday and Tuesday, with Ross Alexander, Glenda Farrell and Anne Nagel in the featured roles. The action centers around the activities of an ex-press agent of a film company who uses his knowledge of the movies to broadcast scandal and gossip about the stars.

Nobody will be able to complain that "Sing, Baby Sing", the musical special coming to the Colonial Wednesday and Thursday, is limited in scope. The picture literally ranges from hi-de-ho to Hamlet, from bay rum to champagne, from the dizzy speech of Gregory Ratoff to the equally dizzy antics of the Ritz Brothers, and from the swing tunes of Pollack and Yellen, as interpreted by Alice Faye, to the iambic pentameter of William Shakespeare, as interpreted by Adolphe Menjou. Mr. Menjou, incidentally, upsets a personal tradition of fastidiousness by roaming around in a nightie, in a sequence which adds nothing to his reputation as one of the world's best-dressed men. Besides the comedy of Ratoff, Menjou and the Ritz Brothers, the picture is punctuated by the stooging and counter-stooging of Ted Healy and Patsy Kelly.

FOUR LIVESTOCK MISTAKES.

That veteran student of Southern livestock problems, Dr. Tait Butler, of The Progressive Farmer, tells farmers that here are their four great mistakes dealing with livestock:

1. We do not produce enough feeds, or if enough, not feeds of the best quality. We have too generally figured on how little feed we could use and get by, instead of how good and how much feed we could produce and market through livestock.

2. We have failed to give sufficient thought to the "balancing" of livestock rations. A balanced ration is something more than the proper proportions of protein and carbonaceous feeds. The quantity must be in proportion to the amount and quality of growth or work expected.

3. We have failed to give intelligent attention to the daily details in care and management. We have failed to do those things which the stockman alone can do—protect his livestock from climatic and natural hardships, protect them from mud and dampness in winter, parasites in summer, and preventable diseases at all times. We have not studied livestock breeding, feeding, and management as the lawyers, doctors, and bankers have studied the basic facts of their professions.

4. We have failed to learn and give sufficient importance to good breeding and individual quality, and to fully realize the basic fact that animals of good breeding and quality pay better prices for the feeds consumed.

"COUNTRY THINGS I LOVE MOST".

To inhale the fragrance of scuppernon flowers—and to anticipate the no less delightful fragrance of ripe scuppernongs.

After a sudden and brief shower, followed by the sun, to enjoy the watermelon odor that comes from sunbeams and raindrops together caressing vegetation.

To lie on the ground and drink from a sand-bottom spring and compel the cool, refreshing water to defy gravity and satisfy every fiber and cell of my being.

The straight trunks of second-growth pines, examples of what man could have done in forest renewal but did not.

The exhilarating pull of the darting black bass—and the satisfying promise of the hot skillet—C. L. Newman in The Progressive Farmer.

BLACK LOCUST IDEAL FOR ERODED, RUNDOWN FARMS.

A black locust fence post on the Jarrell Jarrett farm in Jackson County, Ga., has been in use more than 75 years. Before the Civil War, the post was cut and set. A gate hung on it for years. Still well preserved, the post is now being used in a woven wire fence.

Black locust, one of the fastest growing hardwood trees, is used extensively by farmers cooperating with the Department of Agriculture in the control of erosion. Planted in gullied areas or on unproductive land where the topsoil has been removed, the trees retard damage from washing.

Under favorable conditions, the locust grows rapidly and yields durable fence posts in 10 or 12 years. Trees 30 feet high and 5 inches in diameter are often grown in 15 years.

A legume, black locust draws up on the unlimited nitrogen in the air and fixes it in the soil, thereby increasing fertility. The wood of the locust is heavy, hard, and very durable. Its lasting qualities as fence posts are greater than those of many other woods.

Locust reproduces freely from root suckers, stump sprouts, and seeds which nearly always are fertile. Spring is the best time to plant locust, but seedlings may be planted in the fall.

MY PRAYER.

So oft I gaze on my little boys,
When they have discarded all their toys,
And are sweetly sleeping in their bed—
Wonder where in life they will be led.
All my hopes for pleasure are with them,
All aim for the future is for them,
But how it shall turn out is hidden,
I want to know but 'tis forbidden.
Could I but know they would make wise men,
How peaceful I could be until then,
But the future is a blank slate,
I must be content with my hopes great.

But somehow, Father God, may this be,
That they shall be true to You and me.
—MALOY BYRNS.

I SHALL PLANT AN APPLE.

Here will I plant an apple tree
In the field where the bright plow sleeps
Waiting the boy in blue overalls
And his joyous laugh that creeps
Over the shadows and in between
The hours of the harvests call
Give of your lusciousness to him
Who shall rest in your shade next fall.

SMI AND LES.

Those s-m-i and l-e-s
What a world of meaning they express!
They cheer the heart and ease the load,
They speed the traveler on Life's road,
Brighten up the frowning face,
And make of the world a brighter place.
Dispel the clouds of doubt and fear
By radiating much of cheer,
O, a world of meaning they express
Those s-m-i and l-e-s.

O, a sorrowful world they richly bless
Those s-m-i and l-e-s.
They ease the pain in a sufferer's head
When their bright beams are o'er him shed.
They scatter storms of pain and strife
Cause roseate gleams in a drab, gray life.
Their kindly message saves the day,
Gains the victory in the fray.
O, a sorrowful world they richly bless
Those s-m-i and l-e-s.

All this and more do they express
Those s-m-i and l-e-s.
They fan into life Ambition's fires
Help in attaining Life's desires,
They make your neighbor friendly, too,
Cheers him up when he's feeling blue.
When they your daily life attend
You will never be without a friend.
All this and more, do they express
Those s-m-i and l-e-s.

LIFE IS SWEET.

Life is sweet because of friends
And things we in common share,
I would live, my best I'd give
All because of friends who care.

Life is sweet when I have done
Kind deeds that are worth while;
Dried the tears from downcast eyes,
Then see them look up—and smile!

Life is sweet when at the end
Heaven's Gate shall open wide—
And I hear my Savior say:
"I excuse your faults—you tried!"

THE CHOSEN WAY.

If the path you made years ago
Were yours by choice today,
Would you deem it an honor now
To walk the same old way?

When you turned your feet back homeward
And thought of loved ones there:
The boy and girl who bear your name
With golden locks of hair.

In them did you see wayward self
Who now your likeness bear?
In Life's sad misunderstandings
Who taught them to beware?

The path you chose in former years
Will it be theirs today?
Or, shall it be God's own "sure word"
To right them on Life's way?

DISTRICT HOME ECONOMICS MEETING HELD IN UVALDE.

Eight towns were represented at a District H. E. Club meeting held in Uvalde Saturday, November 21. The eight clubs, those of Del Rio, Sabin, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs, Hondo, Knippa, LaPryor, and Uvalde, met at the High School about 9:00 Saturday morning. After having registered everyone was shown the Home Economics Department of the Uvalde High School.

At ten o'clock all the clubs went to the auditorium where they were given a short address of welcome by the Superintendent of the Uvalde High School, Mr. Dean, and the President of the District Clubs, Miss Elsie Howard of Sabin.

The program was then turned over to the Crystal City Club, which is called the R. O. H. Club (Royal Order of Homemakers).

They presented a Historical Style Show, "Texas Homemakers, 1836-1936", in honor of the 100th birthday of Texas. Styles of every variety, dating back one hundred years, were shown.

At the end of the program lunch was served in the H. E. department. Approximately 300 Future Homemakers of Texas were served sandwiches, salads, fritos, and potato chips, fruit, cake, ice cream, and iced tea.

At 12:30 the Presidents of the Clubs, their sponsors, and the District President had an executive meeting. It was decided that we send our District President to the State Rally at San Angelo, to be held in the spring.

A social gathering or "get-together" was held in the auditorium after dinner. The Glee Club teacher of Crystal City played the piano while everyone sang.

A business meeting of all clubs met at 1:30 in the auditorium. The Club minutes of the last District meeting were read by the secretary, and all new and old business was discussed. A rising vote of thanks to Uvalde for her hospitality was given, and the meeting adjourned. Everyone then left for their respective towns.

There were twenty-seven members present from Hondo. Our next District Club Meeting will be held in Crystal City next year.

FUTURE FARMERS MEET.

The Hondo Chapter of Future Farmers had its regular meeting Wednesday, November 18.

At the meeting the Chapter set the date for the annual F. F. A. play. The name of the play which was selected is "The Arizona Cowboy". This play will be given on December 18 in the High School Auditorium.

The Chapter decided to have its annual Father and Son Banquet sometime in the spring when the weather is warmer.

A varmint hunt was also discussed, but the exact date of this hunt will be decided upon at the next meeting.

After the meeting all of the members and the girls in the cast of the play mentioned above ate ice cream and cookies. Each member brought ten cents to pay for these refreshments. Serving refreshments at one fourth of the meetings is one of the Chapter's objectives.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAIN.

Thursday evening the senior Home Economics girls entertained the Board of Trustees with a dinner in the dining room of the Home Economics department. The table was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and candles.

Those served were Mr. Barry, Mr. McDowell, Mr. Henry Merriman, Mr. Charlie Monkhouse, Mr. Garland Martin, Mr. W. H. Windrow, and Mr. R. J. Reilly. Dr. H. J. Meyer and Mr. Roland Chaney were unable to attend the dinner.

The senior girls, with the help of their sponsor, Miss Stubbs, planned, prepared, and served the dinner.

The following menu was served:
Grape Juice Cocktail
Breaded Veal Cutlet
Stuffed Potatoes
Buttered Beets
Creamed Peas
Combination
Vegetable Salad
Clover Leaf Rolls
Coffee
Lime Whip with Whipped Cream

KTSA BROADCASTING CO.
San Antonio, Texas.

November 16, 1936.

Miss Wilma L. Spratt, Music Director
Hondo High School
Hondo, Texas

Dear Miss Spratt:

We will be glad to clear time for one-half hour by the Hondo High School Glee Club consisting of 45 girls' voices.

We could best clear this time at 4:00 to 4:30 P. M. or 4:30 to 5:00 P. M. any Monday to Friday inclusive, or on Saturday at 5:00 to 5:30 P. M. Will you please indicate which day would be more convenient?

It will be necessary for us to receive copy of any continuity that you want to accompany the broadcast, together with a list of musical numbers you wish to render as soon as possible, in no event later than 48 hours before the broadcast.

At present we are considering sponsoring a contest, vocal and instrumental, among students of high schools. We would ask each high school to present a program by the best talent in the school which could consist of a band, orchestra, glee club, vocalists, etc. We plan on presenting a cup to the winning high school. We would appreciate your opinion of this plan.

Yours very truly,

H. C. BURKE,

Manager.

THREE CHEERS FOR HONDO.

Congratulations, Owls! The power and strength of the blue and white have been proven. Although the tie with Del Rio earlier in the season was a terrific blow to Hondo fans, Monday's conquest of the same team proves that the Owls are a team that can rise above ties and defeats.

By defeating the Wildcats we gained the right to play Carrizo Springs. Let's hope that the same teamwork which was shown Monday will again be shown Saturday. Let's take that same team which beat Del Rio and defeat Carrizo Springs so we can be District Champions.

Let's all give "Three Cheers for Hondo" and shout the praises of its football team "to kingdom come"—for its teamwork, coaching, and fighting spirit.

H. E. MEETING.

The Home Economics Club held its regular meeting Thursday, Nov. 19, in the auditorium. The meeting was called to order by the presiding officer and then turned over to the program chairman. The theme of the program was "Hobbies for Girls". In order for the program to be carried out properly the roll was called first with each girl answering with her favorite hobby. Ada Bell Carter talked on "The Hobbies of Famous People", and Jo Reilly gave a talk using the topic, "Hobbies for Girls". Anna Marie Saathoff sang "The Glory of Love", with Adell Scott accompanying her at the piano. During the business meeting plans for the trip to Uvalde to the District Meeting were made.

H. E. GIRLS SERVE DINNER.

The Home Economics girls have been planning, preparing and serving dinners, both formal and informal. Tuesday the morning section of H. E. II served a company dinner and had as their guests Mrs. Highsmith, Mrs. Bargin, Mrs. Ed. Ney, and Mrs. Bill Moeannik. The afternoon section of H. E. II served a company dinner also and had as their guest Mrs. O. A. Fly.

The H. E. Class I class has been planning, preparing and serving breakfasts.

All of the classes have been serving very attractive meals, and the girls find the work both interesting and informing.

FROM THE RECORDS.

THE WAY OF SALVATION.

By Rev. J. T. Horgan.
ARTICLE NO. 7.

We closed our last discussion, on a know-salvation wherein the soul has believed, repented, confessed, sought and laid hold by faith on the promises of God touching a conscientious justification and regeneration, which compose what is known as the new birth.

St. John says, "But as many as receive him, to them gave he power to become the Sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God." John 1:12-13.

St. Paul writes, "Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold all things have become new." 2 Cor. 5:17. And St. John says, "Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is." I John 3:2. Then St. Peter exhorts, "Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrites, and envies, and evil speakings, as NEW BORN BABES, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby." 1 Peter 2:1-2. I have quoted several Scriptures, that the reader may be the more favorably impressed with the radical, exalted and glorious change that takes place in the heart of the seeking penitent, when they are really and truly born again; born from above; born of the Spirit. St. Peter, as above quoted, insists that new born babes leave off all manner of evil, and desire the sincere milk of the word, that they may grow thereby. St. Paul admonishes, "If ye then be risen with Christ"—that is from the death of sin—"seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead"—or purposed of God to be dead to sin, the love of worldliness, frivolity and foolishness.—"And your life is hid with Christ in God."

"When Christ, Who is our life, shall appear, then shall we appear with him in glory. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry; for which things sake the wrath of God cometh upon the children of disobedience: In the which ye also walked sometime when ye lived in them." "But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth." "Lie not to one another, seeing that ye have put off the 'old man' with his deeds; and have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him."

Now the above is rather a long quotation from Paul; but it is so appropriate for the Spirit-born I could scarcely find where to cut off. Note that the Apostle speaks of put off the "old man" and putting on the "new man". The "old man" here referred to is a stubborn, satanic principle lying deep and often obscure in the recesses of the heart, referred to in Romans, 7th chapter, as "sin that dwelleth in me". And "the body of this death". In the 8th chapter of Romans, Paul refers to it saying, "The carnal mind is enmity against God, for it is not subject to the law of God, neither in deed can be." Note that this "old man" is not subject to pardon, therefore, when God forgives our sins and we are thus justified, it does not destroy the "old man". Col. 3:1-10. And the regenerate principle wrought in the heart, in the act of the new birth, does not destroy the "old man"—"the carnal mind". Nor can he be trained, cultivated and transformed into sainthood. He still remains the old satanic scoundrel.

Now he is so deceiving that one is often unaware of his presence. Especially if one is genuinely born of the Spirit, they will be filled with peace, joy and comfort, in their new found life; peace with God and man; joy, because of a conscious change of heart; an inward knowledge of all sins forgiven; a change of affections, from nature to grace; and a realization of the love of God planted in the soul, all tend to cause one to feel that the "old man" is dead. But wait a few weeks—months—or possibly years, and see if the "old man", like a sulking possum, doesn't come to life and, in some way or other, begin to cause you to grow cold and to neglect your religious duties, indulge in worldly pleasures; and later on, possibly, lead into some crime. Mind you, the Devil and an ungodly world are on the outside, bringing temptation, and the "old man", posing to be your very self, awakens your evil desires, stirs lewd passions, pride, envy, anger, malice, hate, worldliness, covetousness, idolatry and every evil known to satanic power. The "old man" is the child of the Devil.

Now, I am aware that the stronger phases of Calvinism hold that the carnal mind and fallen disposition remain with those born of the Spirit; which we find, according to the Scriptures, is true; but then they go further to tell us that the fallen nature is located in the flesh—corporeal body; and, therefore, cannot be removed until the body is dead.

Now we admit that the Scriptures, according to our English translation, at times seem thus to teach, but we are told that the original Greek, in which the New Testament was written, has a word, which is spelled "sarax", which means the carnal nature of man; and our translators have seen fit to translate that word "flesh", and have led some to make mistakes. But there are plenty other translations, such as "sin", "the carnal mind", "the old man", which are adequate to guide aright.

Then others have taken the position that when one is born of the Spirit that there is no more fallen nature; nothing, but the natural lust of the body, which we are commanded to keep under subject, in righteousness. Well, this theory, that there is no more carnal mind after the new birth, would be mighty nice, if it was Scriptural and according to Christian experience. But as it is neither Scriptural, nor according to Christian experience, the theology of all our orthodox churches declare it there, and we have it to contend with learn that the Scriptures and our churches are right.

SAN ANTONIO LIVESTOCK.

Monday, Nov. 23, 1936.
(Federal-State Market News Service)
Supplies of cattle and calves Monday at San Antonio were slightly lighter than recent Mondays on account of rainy weather. The bulk of offerings consisted mostly of medium and lower grades. Trading was a little more active on the comparatively light supplies and prices held steady on most all classes compared with last week's close. There was a fairly good inquiry for stockers. Estimated receipts consisted of 600 cattle and 900 calves.

Matured grass steers were in light supply and odd lots of common to medium offerings ranged from $4.50 to $6.00. Good grade fat calves and light weight yearlings cashed at $4.75 to $5.25 with a few at $5.50 and a small package of heavy calves up to $5.75. Medium calves were plentiful and sold around $4.00 to $4.75 with common kinds and "rannies" down to $3.00 with a few lots as low as $2.50. The bulk of butcher cows cashed at $3.25 to $4.00 with a few good fat kinds up to $4.25, odd head above. Cutter grades sold around $2.50 to $3.25 with shells down to $2.00. Most bull offerings sold at $4.00 and down, odd head above. Plain stocker calves ranged from $4.00 to $5.00 with a few better kinds above. Stocker steers were scarce.

Hogs, 700 head. The market was active and steady with last week's close. Receipts included a liberal supply of light lights and unfinished kinds. An early top of $9.25 was paid readily by both packers and shippers. The bulk of good to choice 180 to 250 pound butchers cashed at $9.00 to $9.25. Best 140 to 160 pound offerings, mostly $8.00 to $8.75; 160 to 180 pounds, $8.75 to $9.25; 250 to 300 pounds, $8.75 to $9.25. Butcher pigs mostly $7.50 to $8.00, stockers down to $7.00. Packing sows, $7.50 to $8.00.

No sheep or goats were on offer but prices were quotably steady with last sales.

THE LAST MAN.

Perhaps you dream of Gettysburg,
The guns of Chancellorsville,
The blue-clad legions' gallant stand
On battered slope and hill.
Perhaps in dreams you hear again
The savage rebel cry
That swelled from grey-clad raiders'
throats

Exultantly and high.
Perhaps your thoughts no longer dwell
On martial foe and fray.
But where magnolia's cypress shroud
The sleeping blue and gray!

The guns no longer thunder
Where Potomac's waters sweep,
No pickets in the cold grey dawn
Their lonely vigils keep,
No more will Stonewall Jackson ride
On valley, swale and hill,
No more will muskets stutter
Or the flashing sabers kill.
No more will Lincoln's voice be heard
Or Morgan's raiders ride,
No more will youthful warriors march
With quick and swinging stride;
No more will flame of battle last
The weeping heavens red—
The blue and grey united sleep
Where bivouacs the dead!

But you, old comrade, walk alone
Where once an army trod,
Their voices stilled they sleep in peace
Beneath the kindly sod.
You go your brave and lonely way
With halting step and slow,
Your once proud shoulders grimly bowed,
Your grey head bending low;
Perhaps you dream of Grant and Lee
Upon their marble bed—
United now in brotherhood
Where bivouacs the dead!

DAWSON PRESIDENT OF STUDENT BODY.

Kerrville, Texas, Nov. 25.—Ted Dawson, Hondo, Texas, was automatically elected president of the Schreiner Institute student body here this week, after being appointed chairman of the Honor Council, a committee composed of six members; one being elected from each area on the campus, whose purpose is to serve in a number of important capacities; but the most important is that it handles all complaints of the student body in way of petitions and presents these to the faculty. To be elected to the Honor Council is perhaps the highest honor that can be conferred on a student at Schreiner; it means that the cadet body has faith and confidence in the student's integrity, honesty, and good judgment.

Dawson a second year man at Schreiner, was a first stringer on the 1936 Mountaineer football squad, a team that was upset last week by the Lamar Cardinals of Beaumont, to lose their chance at the South Texas Junior College football championship.

DAYDREAM.

I tread the hot stones of the city street,
A burning sun beats mercilessly down,
Strange faces pass me by—increasing crowds
Are standing, walking, talking in the town.
In fancy, far from all the glare and heat,
I see green fields and flower-beds after rain,
As I, a child of eight, 'neath spreading trees
Go splashing barefoot down a country lane.

DEVINE NEWSLETS.

From The Devine News.

BRIEDEN-HAASS.

The marriage on Armistice Day, November 11th, of Miss Frieda Brieden to Mr. Vincent P. Haass at St. Joseph Church, was occasion of more than passing interest to a large circle of relatives and friends. The ring ceremony was read by Rev. Father L. Schiel. The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Alfred Brieden, and was met at the altar by Vincent Haass. The attendants were Miss Clara Batot of D'Hanis, cousin of the bride, and Miss Henrietta Keller of Devine, also a cousin. The groomsmen were Paul Haass of Castroville, cousin, and Ralph Haass of Devine, a brother of the groom. The bride wore a dress of ivory satin and a veil cape style, and carried a lovely bouquet of carnations. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brieden, where a dinner was served; after which the bride was presented with many lovely gifts and the happy couple and guests, many of them, attended the celebrations in Devine. The young couple are members of two of our leading families who have a large number of friends and relatives who wish them success and happiness in their new estate. They will make their home on the Haass farm two miles west from town, where they will be at home to their friends.

MOSS-OWEN.

Mr. J. B. Owen and Miss Mary Moss of the Yancey community were united in marriage at the home of Editor W. L. DuBoise on Armistice Day morning, Nov. 11th, 1936. The young people are prominently connected with two of the best families of the Yancey, Black Creek communities. After a short single ring ceremony, read by the editor, the young couple left in their car for Corpus Christi and other coast towns. They will be at home soon on a farm at Black Creek, where they have many friends with whom The News joins in wishing them much success and happiness in life.

FROM YANCEY.

Miss Doris McGinnis, H. E. teacher, has an adult class meeting every Monday evening from 8 till 10. She has very good attendance and the ladies meet in the H. E. room. Mr. Lock, Vocational Agricultural teacher, has the adult class for men in the Ag. building. The attendance there is very good also.

Last Thursday evening the pupils of the high school left for Dallas on the special train leaving Hondo. About eighteen pupils were chaperoned by Misses Ethel Morrison and Frankie Wiley. They returned Sunday morning.

Mrs. Coy Berry accompanied Evadna and Calvin Ward to Dallas to see the Exposition and incidentally visit Mr. and Mrs. Bain, their relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hartman returned from their bridal trip Thursday. Mr. Charles Heiligman, Sr., and son, George, and family went to San Antonio last Saturday, visiting Mr. Heiligman, Sr., who has been a patient at the Santa Rosa Hospital for ten or twelve days.

Mr. Williams, aluminum salesman, prepared a dinner at the home of Mr. Fritz Fasel last Thursday evening. Eighteen people enjoyed the meal.

Mr. and Mrs. McCrea came in from Boling one day last week and returned the same day. They brought a truck load of pecans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ward and Mr. Byron Ward and children left Saturday for an extended visit with relatives at Mirando, Freer and Bruni.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Nanny made a hurried trip to Uvalde and return

MOON-GATE.

Too soon
Has Autumn
Come.
Through the Moon-gate, in my garden,
I saw her advancing
In all her regal beauty—
Bronze and gold and scarlet.
As she goes,
Whispering
To the pale lilies in the pool
And the iris on the bank
Startling a heron into flight
There is a crying in my heart
For Autumn!
Watching, waiting
For the sampan sail
Of winter,
Dead white
On the jade green of the river.

LACOSTE LEDGERETTES.

From The LaCoste Ledger.

Commissioner H. J. Bippert opened the bridge over the Medina river at Haby Settlement on Wednesday morning and Floyd Haby was the first to cross the new bridge. This bridge was washed out many years ago and was never rebuilt until this year when Commissioner Bippert proposed WPA aid and put in the concrete approaches and raised the low-water bridge two feet to enable passage over the river at times when the railway is giving up considerable water.

JUNGMAN-TSCHIRHART

St. Mary's Church of LaCoste was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Tuesday morning, November 17,
1936, when Miss Ellen Tschirhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tschirhart, became the happy bride of Mr. Alex Jungman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jungman, Sr., all of LaCoste. Rev. Joseph Schwellert officiated at the ceremony in the presence of a large host of relatives and friends. The bridal couple and party received communion in a body during the nuptial mass which followed, making it a truly Catholic wedding.

The bride wore a pretty gown of white velvet made along princess lines, forming a slight train. Her lace-edged veil was attached to a beaded turban cap with clusters of orange blossoms on each side, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and lace fern.

Mrs. J. F. Schott, matron of honor,
Miss Mabel Tschirhart, maid of honor, and Misses Lillian Jungman and Ruby Tschirhart, the bridesmaids, were gowned alike in beautiful wine colored velvet, and carried arm bouquets of pink carnations and lace fern. Bernard Jungman as best man, Clark Bohl and Ernest Adam were the groom's attendants.

Immediately after the ceremony
a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jungman left late in the day for a short trip to Dallas, Ft.
Worth, Schulenburg and other points.
The bride wore a gray mannish suit with harmonizing accessories. Upon their return they will make their home in San Antonio where Mr.
Jungman has employment.

THE LONE WOLF.

The coyote hunts in roving packs
Where the trails of men are dim:
But the lone wolf strikes like a thunderbolt.

The lone wolf's ways are grim,
And the lone wolf stalks like a flaming brand.

To the far-flung desert's rim.
The coyote's mate is a cringing wraith.

Gaunt prey to the hunter's gun:
But the lone wolf's mate is a phantom scourge

That strikes when the day is done,
And the lone wolf's mate is a thing of hate

That the desert dwellers shun.
The coyote's cry is a quivering moan,
A timid cry from afar:

But the lone wolf's howl is a clarion call

Flung to the evening star,
And the lone wolf's snarl is a challenge hurled

To the gods of luck as they are.
The coyote travels a road of fear
When the moon gleams wan and cold:

But the lone wolf ranges by day or night,

The lone wolf's ways are bold,
And his kingdom lies 'neath the desert stars,

And the desert sunset's gold!

(Liquid or Effervescent Tablets)

Soothes irritated nerves, permits refreshing sleep, helps you to "get hold of yourself."

NEARLY everyone is nervous these days. Financial worries, street and home noises, late hours, hard work and exciting recreation put a strain on the nervous system that brings on Sleeplessness, Nervous Headache, Nervous Indigestion, Restlessness, Irritability.

An attack of nerves may make you lose friends, quarrel with your husband or wife, appear a tyrant to your children.

DR. MILES NERVINE has been soothing the nerves of the nation for nearly 60 years. If you are nervous, get a bottle or package at your druggist. He will refund

SOCIAL CLUB.

Members of the Social Club and other friends spent several hours at the home of Mrs. Louis Carle, Jr., on Saturday afternoon. Beautiful roses adorned the rooms. After the usual games of bridge Mrs. Will Nehr, Mrs. R. R. Carle, Mrs. John Rieber, and Mrs. Will Grimsinger received prizes for high and low scores among members and guests respectively. Mrs. Ed Finger out high for the consolation prize. Delicious sandwiches, cake, and coffee were served to Mesdames A. J. Boog, O. J. Reinhart, Will Nehr, M. A. Zinsmeyer, R. R. Carle, Oscar Rothe, Will Grimsinger, Ed Finger, Henry Biry, John Rieber, A. J. Finger, Misses Josie and Melvera Rothe, and the hostess.

GINGHAM GIRLS BRIDGE CLUB.

On Saturday afternoon Misses Lorine Zinsmeyer and Ethel Rothe charmingly entertained the Gingham Girls Bridge Club at the home of the latter. Bouquets of gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums adorned the rooms, and the Thanksgiving motif was used in appointments.

After several games of bridge Miss Sarah Koch won the prize for high score, and Mrs. James Finger drew high for consolation. The hostesses served delicious lemon pie and coffee to the following guests: Mrs. James Finger, Misses Irene Carle, Armine and Lillian Fohn, Alice Rohrbach, Sarah Koch, Ursie Lee Rock, and Sarah Rothe.

SECO 4-H GIRLS STUDY BED-ROOMS.

"Every girl's bedroom should have plenty of ventilation and sunshine and should have a comfortable bed. It should be convenient for bathing and dressing," said Miss Irene Hawkins, Medina County demonstration agent, to the members of the Seco 4-H Girls Club which met at the Seco Schoolhouse Friday, November 20.

Miss Hawkins also talked about good bedroom arrangement. Miss Myrtle Murry, district agent, was a guest. Her talk about work done by club girls she has known was very interesting and helpful.

D'HANIS H. D. CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING.

"A sufficient amount of vitamin A helps to prevent certain kind of eye weaknesses," said Miss Irene Hawkins, Medina County Home Demonstration Agent, to the members of the D'Hanis Home Demonstration Club, which met at the School Auditorium on Friday, Nov. 20, 1936.

Vitamin B helps to tone the muscles. Leafy green and yellow vegetables are rich sources of both of these vitamins.

Miss Myrtle Murray, District Agent of College Station, was a guest of the club and made a very interesting talk on Home Demonstration work in other counties.

Mesdames O. J. Reinhart, Ferdie Rock, Mae Butts and Miss Ruby Butts joined the club.

Members attending were as follows: Mesdames L. Carle, Jr., Alphonse Boog, John Zinsmeyer, E. Brod, Henry Weynand, Ferdie Rock, O. J. Reinhart, Mae Butts, L. Richter, A. J. Finger, Misses Corrine Rieber and Ruby Butts.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, Dec. 4, 1936.

ANVIL SPARKS.

9. Never let the muzzle touch the ground; dirt or mud in the end of the barrel makes a firearm unsafe to use; you may need a new barrel.

10. Never carry your gun cocked or ready to shoot, especially if you are with anyone else.

IS LIBERTY PASSING?

Probably much of our modern increase in crime can be laid to the fact that in the past quarter-century a vast number of acts, once innocent and legal, have been turned into offenses by legislation.

Instead of a liberal, well-ordered legal code that permits every citizen to lead his own life so long as he does not tread on his fellows, we are burdened with a multitude of petty laws many of them conflicting, and practically all of them bound by red tape.

In a recent article, H. L. Mencken, editor of the American Mercury, said that "the bill of rights is on its last legs—Step by step, at first cautiously but of late boldly, the learned justices have found reasons to sustain the wholesale destruction, first of individual rights, and then of State rights. Today the once free American citizen is a mere subject."

What real crime there is, and no doubt there is a great deal of it, could be easily enough handled under a simple, rigorous and swift legal and penal code. Once murderers and thugs found that technicalities and evasions were of no avail and served only to hurry them to the hoosegow, crime would start down hill. Once the sob sisters and professional reformers were put in their place, real offenses against society would diminish.

But to attempt to prevent crime at the expense of the law-abiding is a dangerous practice. The anti-pistol laws, for example, play directly into the hands of the criminal who is assured of an unprotected citizenry. And still more important, they are a menace to freedom.

The average person is well disposed and honest. And the average criminal would swiftly eschew his profession if punishment were certain and swift. We need fewer and better laws, not more; a simpler legal machinery, not a more ponderous one.—Selected.

2. Being a tract of land containing 116 acres, more or less, out of Survey No. 581, W. T. Evans, Abstract No. 1377, and described by metes and bounds as follows:

Beginning at the N. W. corner of Survey 103, Monroe Brackens, being the S. W. corner of this tract; thence E. 233° 05' to a stake set for S. E. corner of this tract and being the S. W. corner of Survey No. 370 1-2, Wright Fullmore; thence N. 231° 3' to a stake set for N. E. corner of this tract and the N. W. corner of Survey No. 370 1-2, Wright Fullmore; thence W. 209° 8' along the S. line of Survey No. 244, Henry Castro, to a stake set for N. W. corner of this tract; thence in a south-westerly direction along the east line of the Pearsall, Yancey and Hondo Road for a distance of 2225 ft. to place of beginning.

Said two tracts of land being situated in Medina County, Texas.

Said application will be heard by the County Judge at the Court House, in the Town of Hondo, Medina County, Texas, on the 14th day of December, A. D., 1936, at ten o'clock A. M.

J. M. FINGER, Administrator of the Estate of John Perry, Deceased.

ETERNAL ASHES.

By Tumbleweed.

Life is comparable to a shaft of light from the setting sun, it is brilliant in colors for a little while and then fades out.

Throughout each day and night, the Gates clang open and shut as the thousands hurry and scurry down the last steps to his or her doom and the distant rumble of the Unknown fades and all is well. Always this procession of souls, clamoring for entrance!

Man, in his greatness and power, builds beautiful palaces in the most picturesque places of the earth and the debris of his yachts and paraphernalia clutters the placid waters; he carves his name on the solid rock for all to see and admire, then the Gates clang open and shut and he is but a memory.

The peoples of the long ago, tilled the soil even as we, and they too, carved in stone for all to see, and now, their ashes have become as one with Mother Earth.

We are like the frail pastel leaf that trusts its fragile beauty to the forces of Autumn. Entangling dream and wind-hushed sighs are its destiny. But this is not all of life, "if it were not so, I would not have told you" There is that blessed Heaven beyond this existence. If there were not any Heaven beyond this vale of tears, what need to go on from day or exist at all.

Lift up your voices and sing, O you of this earth and praise God who made you in His image. We shall live again and we shall then be able to look back on this time of existence and wonder why we didn't have the sense to bear our trials with grace and patience.

Mankind may trudge in the darkness a little while, but the quiet magic of your heart tugging at your reason will assure you of life beyond the Gates.

What is life but an atom, whirled through the space of time; stopping on earth one moment like the beat of a beautiful rhyme. Life has a way of taking toll from the hearts of man; years flee away like a shadow across the horizon-span.

Youth turns to age, then onward, the soul is again set free, and our beautiful castle hastens back to the heart of a tree, Swift is the law that guides us; sure is the clock of Time; Losing not one small moment, like the beat of a beautiful rhyme.

After the verb "to love", "to help" is the most beautiful verb in the world.—Baroness von Suttner.

CASTROVILLE, TEXAS, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1936

CASTROVILLE ZION'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Announcements:

Sunday, Nov. 29.—Sunday school and Bible class at 9:30 A. M. Divine service (1st Sunday in Advent) at 10:30 A. M. After the service Church council meeting.

Sunday, Dec. 6.—Divine service in English.

K. KONZACK, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Mangold and baby spent Sunday at the Schuehle ranch near Hondo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oerter of the Alamo City were Castroville visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Tondre were San Antonio visitors last Wednesday. Milton Bippert of San Antonio spent Sunday here with homefolks.

Miss Ella Droitcourt of the Alamo City is spending the present week with homefolks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jungman and mother, Mrs. Emily Jungman, of Macdonia attended the Mexican supper at the parish hall Sunday.

FOR SALE—No. 1 riding horse, 14 3-4 hands high. JOE HOOG, 2t. The Mexican supper at the St. Louis hall Sunday was well attended and greatly enjoyed by all. The keno stand also was well patronized and a neat sum was realized.

The new Riomedina low water bridge opened for traffic last week. It is two feet higher than the old one and is ample to serve its purpose for many years.

There were so many people here Sunday for the Mexican supper that we cannot mention names. We noticed people here from Hondo, D'Hanis, LaCoste, Riomedina and San Antonio.

A nice rain fell here Monday morning, and it seems there is no let-up with this inclement weather.
